

RIVER DISASTER.

Burning of a Steamboat on the Lower Mississippi.

HINTS THAT IT WAS SET ON FIRE.

Twenty Lives at Least Lost By Drowning or Burning—Wreckage of the Unfortunate—Some Narrow Escapes.

Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 28.—The handsome steamer Oliver Bierne was burned to the water's edge at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning near Milliken's landing, twelve miles below Vicksburg. Twenty persons at the least are believed to have perished.

The Oliver Bierne was a new and handsome passenger boat and was built in Jeffersonville, Ind., four years ago. She has been used in the excursion business on the Mississippi for the past two summers and during the winter season has plied between local points at the lower end of the river. The boat was valued at $50,000 and owned by the Planters' & Merchants' Packing Co., of New Orleans. She left this city last Wednesday with over 100 deck passengers and carried fifteen cabin passengers. This list was increased by additional passengers taken on board at Cairo, Memphis and other landings.

The Bierne, after getting to the Mississippi river, accepted freight on her way down and when she reached Milliken's bend she had aboard several hundred bales of cotton in addition to a quantity of miscellaneous freight. She reached Milliken's bend at night and landed there, intending to resume her trip down the river in the morning at daybreak. The passengers and crew were asleep when at 2:30 o'clock an alarm of fire was suddenly sounded and almost before anyone was awake the boat was in flames.

The blaze originated in the lower deck from what cause no one has yet been able to learn, and communicating to the dry cotton was soon burning with great fierceness. The crew of the boat were aroused and with the passengers who were awake gave the alarm to those who were asleep. A rush was immediately made for the forward part of the boat and many got off in safety, but that avenue of escape and others were soon cut off and the unfortunate passengers and crew were compelled to plunge into the water.

The crew of the boat displayed commendable coolness and every effort was made to save those who had not reached the shore. The chief engineer, Bird, launched the yawl of the boat and he with others succeeded in picking up many of the straggling unfortunates.

The vessel had about eighty deck and about twenty cabin passengers. It is difficult to ascertain the loss of lives, the several reports differing as to the exact number, but conservative estimates are that twenty were lost. The following are known to have been among those who perished:

Mrs. Waddell, an elderly lady of New Orleans; Sam Estricken, son of the clerk; two daughters of Dr. Worrell, of Baton Rouge; a chambermaid; a daughter of Mrs. Adams, of Omaha.

The barber, the second cook and pantryman, five cabin boys and two white levee laborers are also among the missing.

Capt. Thorwgen was the last to leave the boat, having to slide down a guy rod from the upper deck.

Pilot Massie made his escape by passing through the flames to the stern of the boat and jumping into the river. He was severely burned.

The mate let himself down by a rope holding a little child by the clothing. The bodies of the pantryman, chambermaid and her daughter have been recovered.

The crew and passengers all left for Vicksburg by the steamer Sheffield last evening with the exception of Mrs. Frazer and child, Mrs. Dr. Worrell and E. M. Howell, whose injuries are too severe to permit their traveling just yet.

At Greenville the mate had some trouble with the rowers, many of whom quit work, after which the mate hired the levee men, paying them 25 cents per hour. This enraged the negroes, who made open threats against the mate and the boat.

The body of a very old white lady was found on a bale of cotton floating down the river about 10 o'clock by a fisherman, John Mason. She was alive when he found her but speechless. He took her in his skiff, where she died a few minutes later. It is thought that she was at least 60 or 70 years of age. Nothing was found on her person to identify her. Her arm was slightly burned, also the robe.

R. M. Adams, traveling companion of Mr. Howell, also of Omaha, is missing, and it is feared is lost.

William Massie, Tony Burbanks' partner in the pilot house, is seriously and it is feared, dangerously burned. His face, head, back and hands are a solid blister and fearfully swollen. He left for his home in St. Louis by train last night in charge of Burbanks.

A cabin passenger, aged about 40 years, sandy hair, who got on the boat at Greenville, is missing. As the books and cabin register were lost it is impossible to get a complete list of the passengers.

Mrs. Grandson Jones and her daughter were both drowned. Their bodies, with those of four colored men, were recovered. Capt. Thorwgen had drag hooks made and used every possible means to recover the bodies of the lost passengers.

The third deck of the boat was crowded with levee laborers. Many of them ran forward and got ashore, but a large number of them plunged into the river and it is believed that several of them were drowned.

Pilot Stricker was sleeping in the Texas and was so suffocated as to be helpless. He owes his safety to Pilot Burbanks, who seized him and dragged him to the guards of the boat when he jumped overboard.

EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN.

Fatalities Run Into the Hundreds—Details Not Given.

London, Oct. 28.—Dispatches were received here last evening from Japan announcing that the telegraph wires beyond Hiogo and Osaka were down. It was added that there had been an earthquake at Hiogo and the rumor was current that a great amount of property had been destroyed and that the loss of life had been considerable. Hiogo is a seaport town of Japan on the island of Honshu, and is situated about twenty-two miles by rail from Osaka. Hiogo is a fine harbor at the head of the Gulf of Osaka and is adjacent to Kobe. It is lighted with gas, and has a number of fine public buildings, including a town hall, a custom house and government machine shops. The seaport referred to has an extensive foreign and coastwise trade and a population, in 1884, of about 40,000 souls. Osaka is also on the island of Honshu on the sea, thirty-seven miles south of Kioto, to which place, as well as to Hiogo and Kobe, railways have been built. Osaka has a large foreign trade, a great castle, machine shops, a city hall, a mint, a college and an academy, and is traversed by canals over which are more than 1,100 bridges, some of them iron. This city has many theaters and other places of amusement, and it also has 1,900 places of worship. In point of size it is the third or fourth city in Japan, but in social affairs, fashion, commerce and industry it takes the first rank. Osaka has five newspapers, hundreds of schools and a population, according to the census of 1884, of about 250,000.

A private telegram dated Hiogo, received in this city last night confirms the report conveyed in former telegrams that a disastrous earthquake has occurred in Japan. The telegram says that a severe shock was experienced at Osaka and that the destruction both of life and property was very great. So severe was the shock that a number of houses were thrown to the ground and many of the occupants were caught in the falling buildings and crushed to death. A large number of persons succeeded in escaping from their tottering homes only to meet death in the streets to which they had fled for safety from the falling debris.

There is no means, at present, of estimating the total loss of life; in fact, the details of the catastrophe are very meagre, as all the telegraph wires are broken in the districts affected by the seismic disturbance.

The above mentioned private dispatch, however, states that it is known that in Osaka alone the death list contains the names of 300 of the residents of that city.

SPUNKY CHILI.

She Flatly Refuses to Consider the American Demands—The Minister of the New Government Calls on Secretary Blaine.

Santiago, Chili, Oct. 29.—The Chilean government has replied to Minister Egan's demand for an explanation of the recent attack upon American sailors.

The reply is couched in very strong language and it is understood that it amounts to a refusal to accept responsibility for the affair. The state department at Washington has been notified.

Minister Egan, Commander Schley and Consul McCreery are consulting together and it is thought that decisive action will be taken soon. The state department's orders in reference to the matter are very strong.

The intendente of Valparaiso has refused to guarantee the safety of market boats coming to that city early in the morning from the United States war ship Baltimore or the safety of officers of that vessel coming ashore at night. There is a practical boycott on the Baltimore. No American sailors are allowed on shore.

MONTE CALLS ON BLAINE.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Senator Romero, the Mexican minister, accompanied by Senator Montt, arrived at the state department about noon yesterday and sent their cards in to Secretary Blaine. The distinguished foreigners were soon ushered into the private room of the secretary and then followed Mr. Montt's first introduction as a Chilean representative. Mr. Montt was peculiarly favored in being escorted by Minister Romero, who is the dean of the diplomatic corps and in the highest favor with this government.

Senator Montt informed Secretary Blaine that the reason he had not presented himself sooner was his absence from the city almost continuously since the overthrow of Balmeida. He also informed the secretary that he had now received notification from his government of his appointment. The official documents which are necessary to establish him in his office are now on their way to Washington.

Secretary Blaine received the Chilean with all due courtesy and business with Chili will hereafter transacted through Mr. Montt. The interview was short and pleasant.

A Premium on United States Notes.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Commissioner Raum, of the pension bureau, has received a letter from Minister Ryan at the City of Mexico, in which he states that national bank and legal tender notes of the United States bear a premium in Mexico of 30 per cent. In other words, a legal tender or national bank note of the United States of the denomination of $10 will buy thirteen Mexican dollars.

Popes and Conclaves.

Rome, Oct. 29.—The Courier of this city, publishes a decree alleged to have been issued by the late Pope Pius IX., with reference to future conclaves. The decree confirms the exclusive right of the cardinals to elect a pope free from any intervention on the part of the powers. It also declares that the cardinals in Rome at the time of the death of a pope ought to decide whether the election of a new pope should take place outside of Italy, and that if any attempt should be made to interfere with a conclave it should be transferred beyond Italy.

OF COURSE.

It was in the Sabbath-school class, and little "Lizbeth" had been listening with much interest to the scripture illustration of the shepherd and his sheep.

"Now," said the teacher, "tell me who takes care of the sheep?"

"The shepherd," answered the class in chorus.

"That is right; and who else?"

There was silence for a moment. Then a little hand was raised with: "I know, teacher."

"You may tell."

And Lizbeth answered with sincere emphasis: "Boopee."—Washington Star.

He Wanted the Date.

"Let's see, Bobb's—you're from Ohio, aren't you?"

"Yes, old man—I have that honor."

"Well, never mind your impudent conceit, I only wanted to ask when her centennial takes place."

"What centennial?"

"When she was admitted into the union."

"Oh! I don't remember exactly."

"Well, look it up, please."

"Why?"

"Oh, I want the Dayton, Ohio—that's all."

And he dodged the inkstand as he made his exit.—Philadelphia Press.

The Art of News-Getting.

Mrs. S., opening her window as she sees the telegraph boy passing by: "Is that telegram for me?" "No marm."

"Anybody dead?" "No marm." "Somebody's coming, I s'pose?" "Yes, Miss Dobson is coming to visit Miss Johnson."

"When is she coming?" "This afternoon at 6 o'clock."

"Well, you had better hurry along. I thought it was for me when I saw you coming this way."

"Shutting the window: "There, I have got the news before she has and did not have to pay for it either."—Boston Journal.

Wide Awake for November.

It is worth everybody's while to buy the November Wide Awake, for three notable features: "The Boyhood of Hawthorne," by his relative, Mrs. Richard Manning of Salem, Mass., which is full of family anecdote and gives a photograph of the first portrait painted of Hawthorne; the closing chapters of Margaret Sidney's famous serial, "Five Little Peppers Grown Up;" and "Nolan," a ballad by Mrs. Laura E. Richards, giving the tragic story of the bearer of Raglan's dispatch to Lord Lucan's "Light Brigade," when they made the famous "charge" at Balaklava; sure to become a favorite with boys for Declaration Day. Margaret Spencer has a capital story, "Glady's Kate Upon Clark has a Thanksgiving tale, "Miss Estelle Elliott's 'Molasses Cake'; "Old Adams, the Bear-Tamer" is a bit of Western biography by Charles Howard Shinn. William Zachary Gladwin has a good story of a plucky boy, called "Johnny O'Dowd's Chance." "Men and Things" is rich in anecdote, and readable poems and articles are contributed by Mrs. S. M. B. Platt, Amanda B. Harris, "M. E. B.," Mrs. William Claflin, Clara Doty Bates, Caroline Hunt Rimmer, L. J. Bridgman, and many others.

Wide Awake is $2.40 a year; 20 cents a number. A specimen (back number) will be sent on receipt of 5 cents. D. Lothrop Company, publishers, Boston.

Impish Freaks.

Are those of a disordered liver. But when that organ is thoroughly disciplined with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the bile is adequately secreted, diverted from the blood into its proper channel, digestion grows active, the skin and eye balls lose their bilious tinge, pain in the vicinity of the liver ceases, sick headache and nausea depart. The Bitters is an incomparable preventive of malaria, rheumatism and kidney complaint.

"August Flower"

"I have been afflicted with biliousness and constipation for fifteen years; first one and then another preparation was suggested to me and tried but to no purpose. At last a friend recommended August Flower. I took it according to directions and its effects were wonderful, relieving me of those disagreeable stomach pains which I had been troubled with so long. Words cannot describe the admiration in which I hold your August Flower—it has given me a new lease of life, which before was a burden. Such a medicine is a benediction to humanity, and its good qualities and wonderful merits Jesse Barker, Printer, Humboldt, Kansas, G. G. GREEN, Sole Man'r, Woodbury, N.J.
